

What do you see when you glance outside your window? What would you like to see — a whimsical world of fairies and magic, a night lit by city lights and speeding cars, or a cute animal's face peering inside? Maybe you picture a windowsill adorned with curtains and candles in front of a hilly countryside. Whatever real or imagined images you come up with, make sure to stamp it and send it to us for possible inclusion in the April 2012 issue.
