

tempting template

There's perhaps nothing more charming than a birdhouse. Made for the quickest and most graceful of creatures, a birdhouse is a safe haven, a respite from the chilly outdoors, and often a source of nourishment. But they can be fun too, as they are often decorated and personalized. For this Tempting Template, show us what you'd like your birdhouse to look like. Is it friendly and fun? Elegant and elaborate? However you decide to decorate your home for the birds, send us your creations by March 15, 2010, for publication in the August/September 2010 issue.
