

Perhaps nothing evokes the common female experience more than the dress form, with an apron tied at the waist. It makes us think of our mothers and grandmothers, and of warm afternoons spent helping prepare a meal. We want you to use this dress form to tell us your story. Did your grandma wear the same red apron for your entire childhood, using it to wipe spills and tears alike? Did your mother have a fancy apron that she only wore on special occasions? Use your imagination to show us what this image means to you — we can't wait to see the results! As always, make sure to include stamping on your projects, and please send us your samples by November 15, 2012 for possible inclusion in our April/May/June 2013 issue.

Tempting Template

Absolute Deadline — November 15, 2012

Template Instructions

1. Photocopy template.
2. Cut dress and apron.
3. Stamp, decorate, and embellish pieces as desired.
4. Attach apron to dress.

Le Menu
3" x 4½"
Andrea Rangno
Mission Viejo, CA

You can find past templates and finished samples online at www.stampington.com. Click on the box marked "Tempting Template" in the left navigation bar on the home page.