

There are a few things that make a woman instantly feel more glamorous, and a great pair of high heels definitely ranks at the top of the list. For this issue's template challenge, we'd love to see how you would dress up your dream shoe; would you add some major bling? Or keep it simple and elegant? This is a challenge that definitely calls for some extra creativity, so feel free to pull out all the stops! Just remember: Whatever style you choose, you have to include rubber stamping to be considered for publication. Send us your best work by November 15, 2013 for possible inclusion in our Spring 2014 issue.
