

It's never too early or late for a spook-tacular Halloween-themed tempting template challenge! We are preparing yet again for our annual Frightful & Delightful 2014 issue of The Stampers' Sampler, and the first step is to issue a template challenge that will truly inspire you to unleash your creative hocus pocus! For this template challenge, we've chosen this charming witch's hat, made by Cari Jacobson. You may fold it, as Cari did, or keep it straight, and embellish to your heart's content! Whatever your inner witch can dream up, we'd love to see it. As always, remember to include stamping on your projects, and have them to us no later than February 15, 2014 for possible inclusion in our July/August/September 2014 issue.
